Thomas McGoldrick Receives Certification in Distressed Business Valuation

Greensboro, NC – Thomas J. McGoldrick, Executive Vice President of the Greensboro-based turnaround management firm Anderson Bauman Tourtellot Vos & Co., has been awarded Certification in Distressed Business Valuation.

The Certification in Distressed Business Valuation (CDBV) designation, conferred by the Association of Insolvency & Restructuring Advisors, reflects both experience and professional education in valuing distressed assets, including distressed and/or bankrupt companies.

McGoldrick, who also holds the Certified Turnaround Professional (CTP) and Certified Insolvency and Restructuring Advisor (CIRA) designations, brings decades of experience to developing and implementing turnaround and transition strategies. As an interim turnaround executive, he has served as CEO, CFO, or CRO for companies ranging from a Dot Com marketer to chemical, plastic and packaging manufacturers.

He earned his MBA degree from the University of Connecticut and his BS degree from East Carolina University. Prior to attending college, Mr. McGoldrick served with the U.S. Marine Corp in Vietnam.

“This additional certification will be valuable to our client companies,” said Peter Tourtellot, managing director of Anderson Bauman Tourtellot Vos. “Especially in light of the bankruptcy reform law and the downturns we are seeing in several industries, underperforming companies need expert guidance in deciding how to proceed. A thorough and professional valuation is integral to that decision process. “

Anderson Bauman Tourtellot Vos, established in 1989, is a pioneer and leader in the corporate revitalization industry.
